29. SWOC analysis of the Department and future plans:

The term 'SWOC' indicates strength, weakness, opportunities and challenges of a Department of an Institution in this regard.

STRENGTH: - The importance of the subjects like Economics, History and Political Science has received maximum momentum, since the majority of the civil servants are hailing from the above said subjects. These subjects are coming under the purview of humanities since it deals with different aspects of human life. Anticipating better prospects for the students of our Department we are conducting Civil Service orientation classes, encouraging our students to join NSS, since it deals with society. Our former student Santo Sebastian received the Best NSS volunteer Award from the University of Kerala (2017-18). Last year another student from the Department of Economics Muhammed Nezmil received Best NSS Volunteer Appreciation from the University (2019-2020). Prof. Varghese Thomas, who is working in this Department, is serving the society as a Counsellor Psychology. Prof. Anishkumar, is in Charge of various Committees constituted by the College Authorities, especially the Career Guidance and Placement Cell. Prof. Mathew Varghese is a well-known Horologist, a number of antique grandfather clocks it is very rare in the market nowadays. The Department is so proud of Prof. Aswathy. P, a who received an award from the State for her activities in the arena of National Service Scheme. We are so happy to say that the head of the Department of Economics, Prof. Dr. P K Varghese is the convenor of IQAC that deals mainly with ensuring quality education in the Institution.

Behind each and every victory in the field of sports especially in the State and National level, the contributions of our students from our Department are always appreciable.

WEAKNESS: - The catchment area of our Department is the locality within the vicinity of Mavelikara the students strength is always less than twenty five, since there are a number of aided Colleges having the same course in the nearby areas. The students have to pay their semester fee, which seems to be a burden to some students having poor financial back ground. The Department is struggling hard to secure financial support from the Government or University for conducting Seminars, Conferences, etc.

OPPORTUNITIES: - As a part of Globalisation and privatization wide opportunities are opened to Social Sciences both in India and abroad. While some students are securing admission Post Graduate programme in the same discipline, some others are interested in MBA and MSW. Some of our students who received encouragement from our Civil Service coaching centre that started quite recently are preparing to appear for Civil Service Examination.

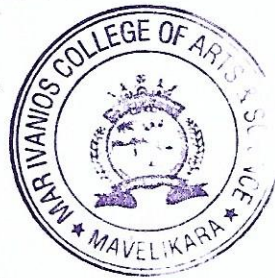

CHALLENGES: - The quality degradation at the Secondary and Higher secondary level that is really felt in the State have affected indirectly in the quality of students who are taking admission in the Department. Each and every year the State makes a marginal increase in the seats, both in the aided and unaided Institutions. As a result the students are less interested in seeking admission in the self-financing area since they have to pay from their own pocket, for their academic pursuit.
